She is Maria. Some years ago, she had an accident and they put a prosthesis on her arm...

Some days after her operation, she found out something weird...

She could cause air vacuums... and tornados

She couldn't control her superpower, so sometimes she caused trouble.

Sometimes she caused tornadoes in her room as well.

I destroyed everything...

She was feeling an overwhelming sense of guilt.

A woman with long, flowing purple hair is seen from behind, walking along a dirt path in a vibrant, sunlit forest. She is wearing a grey tank top and dark pants. The forest is filled with tall, thin trees and dense green foliage. The scene is peaceful and serene.

So, she took a walk in the forest to clear her mind.

The colors were beautiful, and the singing of the birds helped her calm down.

The same forest path is shown, but the atmosphere is dark and ominous. A large, intense fire is burning in the center of the path, with bright orange and yellow flames reaching up. The trees are now dark and shadowed, and the overall scene is one of danger and chaos.

When, all of a sudden...

She realized that the entire forest was burning. The situation seemed hopeless.

I got an idea!

So she began to think about what to do.

She utilized her superpower to create a vacuum of air in order to extinguish the fire.

She managed to turn off the fire; the forest was completely destroyed and some animals injured.

But that wasn't important, because she saved the forest. For the first time, she felt proud of herself and her superpower.

She finally understood her mission in the world: using her superpower to benefit her community!
