INTRODUCTION

"One step higher - Climbing the ladder of participation", is an 18 months project involving 8 organisations from Italy, Portugal, Georgia, Albania, Spain, North Macedonia, Greece and Turkey.

The project will see the implementation of two project activities: a Study Visit in Portugal hosted by DYPALL NETWORK and a Training Course in Italy hosted by Bangherang in order to co-create a common youth participation model with methodologies, phases and good practices for youth workers, in order to encourage youth participation in democratic life.

GOALS OF THE TRAINING

- Develop youth workers' competences and non-formal education methodologies regarding youth participation;
- Engage local municipality administrators and bring them closer to the needs of young people with the goal of involving them more and more effectively in the decision-making process;
- Empower NGOs with an in-depth study of youth participation and updated methodologies for engaging young people;
- Establish a network of youth workers to share experiences, resources, and ideas related to youth participation in democratic life.

TARGET GROUPS:

- youth workers from civil society organisations and youth workers from local municipalities (preferably the same participants who participated in the first project activity - study visit to Lisbon)
