

Dear Partner!

Uluslararası Doktorlar Derneği (Alliance of International Doctors), we are going to submit an international project to Turkish National Agency for the October 2024 deadline in the frame of Erasmus+ Key Action 153 – Mobility of Youth Workers.

We would be very happy to see you as the partner of this project.

NAME OF THE PROJECT	: Boosting Health Equity in a World of Climate Change
APPLICANT ORGANIZATION	: Uluslararası Doktorlar Derneği
GRAND PROGRAMME	: Erasmus+
SUB PROGRAMME	: Key Action 153 – Mobility of Youth Workers
PROJECT VENUE	: İstanbul, Turkey

GENERAL AIM OF THE PROJECT:

To empower young people to actively participate in addressing the health inequities exacerbated by climate change, by raising awareness, fostering knowledge, and promoting sustainable solutions that improve health outcomes for marginalized communities. The project seeks to create a platform where young people can engage with decision-makers, advocate for health equity, and contribute to climate-resilient health systems, thus supporting both environmental sustainability and public health.

SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES ABOUT OUR PROJECT:

1. To increase the awareness of young people on the impacts of climate change on public health, particularly among marginalized populations, while fostering their understanding of the connection between environmental sustainability, health equity, and social determinants of health.
2. To empower young people to actively participate in local and international policy dialogues on health and climate change by supporting youth-led initiatives and campaigns that advocate for climate-resilient health systems and sustainable health practices.
3. Building partnerships between youth organizations, health professionals, environmental groups, and policymakers to facilitate knowledge exchange and cooperation, enabling young people to share best practices and develop collaborative solutions to health challenges posed by climate change.
4. To provide young people with training and capacity-building opportunities to enhance their skills in health advocacy and climate change mitigation, enabling them to design and implement local projects that address health inequities exacerbated by climate change.
5. To ensure the inclusion of diverse and marginalized youth in the project's activities, empowering them to lead interventions that address health disparities and promote equitable health outcomes in the face of climate change.

AID would like to invite organizations working in inclusion field on local, national or international level. The call for partners is open for all Erasmus+ Program countries.

The contact making will meet necessary accessibility standards and is available also for people with disabilities.

There will be no participation fee!
