A Week in the Woods: Redefining Constructive Dialogue

BY ADVENTURE SPIRIT

"Anytime I feel lost, I pull out a map and stare. I stare until I have reminded myself that life is a giant adventure, so much to do, so much to see," the shaman explains. 40 youngsters from 8 different countries have been out in the wilderness of Kęgums for 8 days now. With the help of shamans they have been exploring the ancient wisdoms of the nature, learning to tackle communication issues among the tribes and make common agreements. They have faced unimaginable obstacles and experienced enormous beauty. Nearly half of them admit that they are now more accepting towards other cultures and are willing to continue working with the topic of social inclusion. Our congratulations to all the amazing organizations involved in creation of the project HUNT!
