ABOUT ME

As part of Erasmus+ Youth programmes, I regularly work with young people and youth workers, using non-formal educational methods to address key challenges. My goal as a trainer is to support mental health in a safe and brave space, addressing timely issues like climate anxiety and digital wellbeing.

Holding a degree in psychology, I actively apply my expertise to these projects, sharing knowledge and best practices with participants. I also enjoy incorporating tools enriched with art and drama elements.

As a freelance graphic designer, I primarily support NGOs, civil organizations by designing printed publications, books, and online campaigns.
