Graduated high school with intensive classes in English.

Since 2006 I have been working in an international environment where my language skills further developed.

Skills

I have been trained and mentored between 2012 and 2015 in Hungary, and Holland. In the intense course of personal and professional development I have discovered my strengths: professional stance, attention to details, developing and using checklists, reporting and meeting deadlines. All that combined with my light and humorous approach makes the groups bond together and follow the programs.
